All-Weather Protection with Advanced Metal Performance

Proprietary Manufacturing Process

Our production standard is built on precision and long-term resilience. While traditional materials may degrade over time, our custom panels are engineered through a rigorous multilayer process to protect your investment.

- High-Performance Priming: Every panel is treated with a specialized primer that reinforces adhesion and acts as a primary barrier against corrosion.
- CERAM-A-STAR® 1050 Topcoat: We utilize the industry's strongest silicone-modified polyester (SMP) coating, specifically designed to provide superior moisture and UV resistance.
- Ceramic Pigment Technology: Our finish incorporates select ceramic and inorganic pigments to ensure decades of color stability and gloss retention.

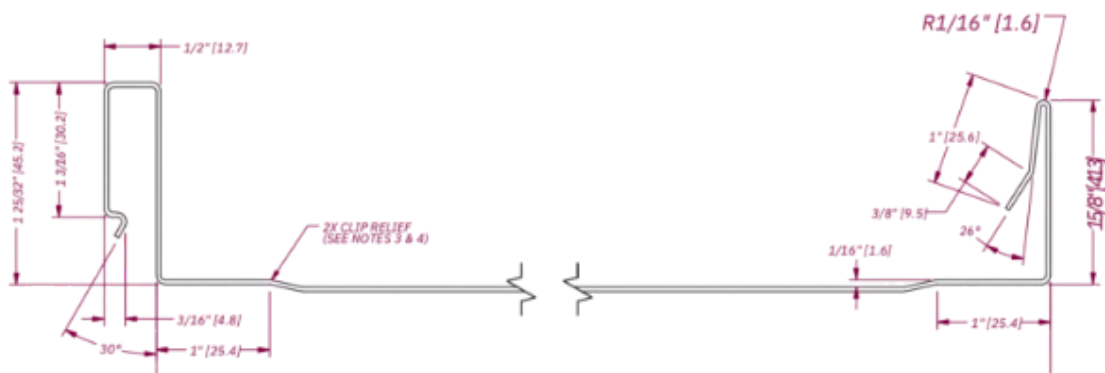

Reinforced Durability: This specialized system provides the best film hardness and abrasion resistance in the market, keeping your roof looking new for decades.

COMMERCIAL STANDING SEAM

Crafted for Superior Protection & Performance

ROOF SYSTEM ELEMENTS

Precision Components. Complete Protection.

A high-performance roof is more than just panels — it's a carefully engineered system of components designed to work together. From ridge caps and flashing to ventilation, drip edges, and fasteners, each element plays a critical role in protecting your home from water, wind, and weather.

The diagram highlights the key elements that combine to create a durable, weather-tight roofing system built for long-term performance, energy efficiency, and lasting beauty.

BUILDING TOGETHER

About The Metal Shop LLC

Since the early 2000s, The Metal Shop has been one of Michigan's leading metal roofing and siding manufacturers, serving homeowners, contractors, and commercial builders across the entire state. As a family-owned business, we're committed to delivering high-quality, long-lasting roofing solutions engineered specifically for Michigan's harsh climate. From standing seam and board and batten to custom fabrication and K-Buildings, we manufacture everything right here in Bellevue using premium Galvalume®-coated steel and AkzoNobel paint systems backed by 40-year warranties.

What sets us apart is our factory-direct approach and custom fabrication capabilities. We don't just sell metal roofing—we make it. Our advanced roll-forming equipment and skilled team can create any custom trim, architectural detail, or specialty component you need. As we say, "If you can draw it, we can make it." This eliminates middleman markups, ensures better quality control, and allows us to deliver most custom orders within 3–4 days. We're known for hitting delivery windows within 30 minutes of scheduled times, because we know reliability matters when you're coordinating crews and weather windows.

The Metal Shop is composed of highly skilled professionals committed to exceptional service and customer education. Our open-door policy means you're always welcome to visit, ask questions, and learn—whether you're a first-time DIYer or a seasoned contractor. We provide free project estimates, roof measurements, and professional inspections to help you choose the right materials. We also believe in sustainability: our products contain high recycled steel content, are 100% recyclable, and we repurpose our own scrap into new products like our metal planter boxes. Customer satisfaction is our advantage, and we strive to exceed expectations with every project. BBB Accredited since 2023.
